DETAILED ACTION

1. The indicated allowability of claims 28-30 has been withdrawn in view of the newly discovered reference(s) to Ostrand et al. Rejections based on the newly cited reference(s) follow.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 28-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ostrand et al. Ostrand et al. discloses the claimed invention except for the return spring biasing the coupling element into the neutral position. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to for the spring of Ostrand et al to biased the coupling elements into a neutral position, since it has been held that a mere reversal of the essential working parts of a device involves only routine skill in the art. In re Einstein, 8 USPQ 167. ✓

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. Claims 34-43, 24, 25 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. There is confusion between "a second coupling" in claim 34, line 10 and "said second coupling element" in claim 35, line 2.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 23-25, 27, 32, 33 and 36-43 are allowed.
6. Claims 34 and 35 would be allowable if rewritten or amended to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action.
